This from Rita Harbie

Above is a photo of a commemorative mailing in honor of Admiral Byrd's second expedition to the South Pole. It was autographed by John Dyer, who was the (young) radio man on the expedition.

I found it on Amazon several months ago. There were 4 or 5 left at the time and I managed to get one.

I met Mr. Dyer shortly after I was hired as a newly minted engineer in the Deer Park Materials Lab. I was examining something under a microscope when a voice behind me said "Watcha looking' at?" When I turned around, a tall, dignified gentleman extended his hand and said "Hi - I'm John Dyer!"

I never forgot it!

What a week last week was.....two great grandchildren born...both boys. One on Wednesday the other on Thursday. Grandson Connor and his wife Jess in Baltimore welcomed John Francis, and Ted and his wife Shiva in Denver welcomed Zeki David. Of course due to COVID-19 their grandparents nor Art and I will be able to visit in the very near future but thanks to today's technology we were able to see them immediately at the hospitals. Other than that the Ranta's are staying in mostly although as of Friday the restaurants and the retail stores opened for business. Hope everyone stays well.....
